

We are all working harder than ever and trying to stretch our money just to live - day to day seems an upward climb. If you are fortunate and are able to go on a day out, please remember to check out these little tips, it always helps to be savvy... It could in fact allow another day out on the savings

Think before doing anything:

- Is there a voucher code for it???
- Is it cheaper to book in advance?
- Is it cheaper to book online? If you don't have access to the internet, use the local library (they will even help if you struggle with anything)
- Take a packed lunch – the average price of a meal at attractions is £7 - £12 (or more)

Tesco Clubcard Points

Convert Tesco Clubcard points into Tesco Reward Partners vouchers and on many attractions, you get three times the vouchers' face value to use on tickets, e.g., £5 in points converts into £15 worth of vouchers. Can be used at theme parks, wildlife parks and more.

Here are some of the theme parks you can select:

Alton Towers, Blackpool Pleasure Beach, Chessington, Legoland, Thorpe Park, Edinburgh Dungeons

And some of the wildlife parks and family fun:

Eden Project, Longleat Safari, Blue Reef Aquarium (Newquay), Exmoor Zoo, Longleat, SEA LIFE Weymouth, Cheddar Gorge & Caves, City Cruises Poole

Kelloggs

Currently, promotional packs of Kellogg's cereal and snacks offer a 'Free Adult Ticket' voucher for over 30 UK Merlin theme parks and attractions.

The vouchers can be exchanged for entry at Alton Towers, Thorpe Park, Legoland, Chessington, Sea Life Centres, Madame Tussauds and more – see the full list of Merlin attractions.

However, it's more of a 2for1 ticket as to get the 'free' one, you'll need to purchase a full-price child or adult ticket (normally up to £60, although this varies from park to park). It can actually work out better than 2for1 if you're going with a child as children's tickets are generally cheaper than adult ones at many attractions. The vouchers are also valid until 30 June 2023!

Kellogg's says the voucher can be found on a range of products including Corn Flakes, Coco Pops, Crunchy Nut and Rice Krispie Squares (about £2-£3 at most supermarkets). Or if you're looking for a budget option, single Nutrigrain and single Squares bars are included in the promotion, and they're usually 70p-ish.
